1. In early July 1953 the headquarters of the Sindŏng-ni (N 39-41, E 127-29) (CU-7093) Armed Self-Defense Unit in South Hamgyŏng Province was at CU-697931, approximately 400 meters north of Sindŏng-ni in a semi-underground house. This house belonged to the chief of the Unit, CHANG Hong-chae (1728/1738/0961). The unit was equipped with only one Soviet-made Mossin-Nagant rifle, which had been given to it by the Sinsang-myŏn Police Station in P'ach'unjang (N 39-39, E 127-25) (CU-6490).
2. The Unit was responsible for guarding the coast in the Sindŏng-ni area. Two of the members, one of whom was armed with the Unit's only rifle, manned a sentry box, which was constructed with logs and camouflaged with sand, on the beach at CU-705926, about 400 meters east of Sindŏng-ni. These guards were checked twice a night at irregular hours by CHANG Hong-chae. In the event of an enemy attack, one of the guards was to report to CHANG at his home. During the day two unarmed members of the Sindŏng-ni Democratic Youth Association manned the sentry box.
3. Members of the Self-Defense Unit included the following:
 - a. CHANG Hong-chae, aged 30, chief of the Unit, a primary school graduate, farmer, and zealous Korean Labor Party (KLP) member.
 - b. SIN To-yŏn (3947/6670/8673), aged 31, assistant chief of the Unit, a primary school graduate, and zealous KLP member.
 - c. CH'OE Chong-sŏn (1508/6945/0810), aged 37, a fisherman.
 - d. HAN Tal-un (7281/6671/6663), aged 32, chairman of the Sindŏng-ni Peasants' League, and a KLP member.
